

Pres. Sealock Tells Of Hopes For New Site

Would Like An Eighty Acre Tract of Land

PLANS INDEFINITE

THE new campus for the Municipal University of Omaha may be an eighty-acre tract, according to Dr. W. E. Sealock, president of the university.

"Sixty acres might do," Dr. Sealock compromised, "but I would rather have eighty."

"We are going to build four buildings, if our plans go through, immediately. But we want room for developments. We want to build a stadium on the grounds; we want tennis courts, volley ball courts, and a lot of playground."

Present Site "Impossible"

"I don't have any preference right now in regard to a site. Several sites are under the consideration of the board. The site near Thirtieth and Maple streets that was recommended by Mayor Towl seems large enough, but I don't know whether or not it is the best thing to pick a site with a prominent boulevard running through it. If students had to cross this boulevard between classes, a dangerous situation might develop."

"But I'm not advancing any definite opinion about the location of the new university. The point I have stressed before the board has been the impossibility of our present location, and the advisability of a new campus."

The four buildings to be built first, according to Dr. Sealock, are an administration building, a social science building, a science hall, and a gymnasium. A heating plant is also planned.

Girls Lead In Freshman English Exam

Only 4 Boys Among Students To Score More Than 140 Points

Thirteen girls and four boys, entering freshmen, made 140 or more out of a possible 155 points in the Cross English usage examination taken Monday, September 11, in room six.

Frances E. Fore ranked highest with a total of 148 points. Following her were Cherrie R. Fuller and Norma Knobe with a score of 146. Next in succession were Beverly Ballantyne with a score of 145 and Ermagrace Reilly with 144.

Four boys, John W. Blough, Don W. Rankin, Samuel J. Roberts, and Perry J. Rushlau received the same score, 143.

Education Begins

Sylvia Silverman also made 143 and Margurite J. Fulton 142. Two of the scholarship girls follow closely with a score of 142 for Doris C. Lynn of Tech and 141 for Pauline Thornton of North.

A score of 140 is accredited to the remaining four girls, Marador Cropper, Margaret E. Little, Willa B. Roben, and Doris M. Wismer.

"College education began for the freshmen when they answered the first question in the examination," said V. B. West, acting head of the English department.

The examination was made up of two distinct parts, one part of which

Gateway Columns Open To Letters From Students

A public pulse column will be conducted in The Gateway this year. Letters on any topic of interest to the student body or faculty will be printed.

Though the names of writers are desired, unsigned letters of interest will be published.

Staff Positions On The Gateway Are Still Open

Students interested in working on either the editorial or business staff of The Gateway should at once get in touch with Franklin Buxton, editor, or Randolph Claassen, business manager.

There is need for several more reporters in the editorial department while the business staff would like to secure two additional advertising solicitors. A commission is paid ad solicitors and from this group next year's business manager will be chosen. Next year's editor who will be given a tuition scholarship, will be chosen from the 1933-34 editorial staff.

Previous experience in either department, though desirable, is not necessary and no one will be barred on this account.

The Gateway office is located in room 3 of the Faculty Building. A staff member will be in the office from 12:40 until 3:00 this afternoon to receive applications. The Gateway telephone number is KE 0772 while Claassen may be reached at HA 2995. Buxton's phone is KE 2260.

Harold Glass, '32, has been named extension instructor in accounting. He succeeds Merwin Hargrove, '32, who is studying for a master's degree at Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa.

Disagree With Authors

Three rather startling statements composed the other part. The student was expected to write his reaction to them in a brief concise paragraph.

"Those students who wrote the best answers had the best ideas and usually disagreed with the authors of the statements," West further commented.

The purpose of the examination was to divide the students into three groups. Group one is made up of students who seem to have missed the basic fundamentals of the language.

Group two is made up of those who white tolerably well but not always clearly or concisely. The last group are those who are ready for advanced courses—those who made the highest scores.

Examinations for the students of groups one and two will be given at the close of the semesters—one in January and another in June. Students who pass will have satisfied the University requirements in English, and many do advance work in English if they wish.

Freshmen Begin "New Deal" In College Studies

Old Methods Removed
With Curriculum
Revision

ELIMINATE TEXTS

A NEW deal in education is in full sway at Municipal University.

Historical teaching methods are out, and in their place are the best methods gleaned from leading American and English universities.

Working on the theory that the student retains only the knowledge he seeks, President W. E. Sealock, with the assistance of a committee composed of faculty members, has given the Omaha student what he wants.

Text-books Out

Text-books, as such, are now obsolete. Numerous exams throughout the semester, so terrifying to most students, are a thing of the past. The old orientation course for freshmen has become an elective.

These changes, and more, are the result of two years' investigation and study by President Sealock and Drs. Claude W. Stimson, T. C. Pollock, L. N. Garlough, James M. Earl, and Edgar A. Holt. Teaching methods of Harvard and Princeton, which are both operating on the English university system, were studied. Together with those of the University of Chicago, Lehigh University, and Rollins College, the Harvard and Princeton systems form the base for the revision of the Municipal University curriculum.

Modern Outlook

All subjects are now being taught from a present-day view point. To accomplish the latter, it was necessary to do away with texts, inasmuch as the latest copy of a book will become out of date as world conditions change. Economics students will not begin their course with the study of Adam Smith. Instead, the students will delve deeply into the depression of 1929-1933, which is much closer to home, and of far more importance.

COOLER RETURNED

Disappearance of Fountain
Cleared Up After 2
Day Absence

"It's only here for a free trial," said one.

"It's only here for the hot months," said another.

"It's only here to impress prospective students, and will be removed after registration," said a third.

But apparently they were all wrong, for the gleaming white water cooler still brightens the first floor corridor of Joslyn Hall.

There was a time when students thought their worst suspicions had been confirmed. The water cooler disappeared for two days. But one morning when rosy-fingered dawn woke the students from their eight o'clock classes, there was the water cooler back again.

Investigation revealed that it had only been sent away to have its bearings tightened, or whatever it is they do to leaky fountains.

The Gateway mailbox inside the south entrance to Joslyn Hall, may be used as a depository of news items for The Gateway.

If you have a personal item, a letter to The Gateway, news story, or a tip, drop a note in The Gateway mailbox and we will do the rest.

Bee-News Cites Building Needs At Omaha Uni

Municipal university must have more and suitable buildings, located on a site that will be ample for its needs, the Omaha Bee-News declared in an editorial September 18.

The proposal to borrow money from the federal government to purchase a campus and erect needed buildings deserves full attention, the editorial stated.

"The government to be vested with title to the property, the university to occupy and use the buildings and grounds under a lease, by the terms of which the property will eventually pass to the school district when the loan has been amortized is feasible," the Bee-News declared.

Inadequate Physical Plant

"President Roosevelt has recognized aid to education as one of the objects of his recovery program. It is now proposed to make loans to assist public schools... to replace buildings that are no longer suitable for schools, or to provide new school buildings to meet urgent demands."

No stretch of the imagination is required to locate Municipal university in that classification, the Bee-News declared. It is a public school, supported by tax money. It has outgrown its physical plant. Its future depends on the provision of adequate accommodations for the students who seek education in its halls.

"It would be a waste of money and effort to erect additional buildings on the present small campus," the editorial stated.

Achieves Ambition Despite Handicap

Doctors Once Despaired Of Saving The Life Of Doris Lynn,
Municipal University Scholarship Winner

This is the story of a girl who refused to die. In fact, she refused to die several times. On more than one occasion doctors despaired of saving her, but she went on living.

Doris Lynn, '37, is the girl and her malady is a defective heart. Since birth she has been weak and ill. Her condition did not permit her to enter school at the normal age. The only education she received in her early years was given by her mother, Mrs. Della Lynn, a widow.

Enters Grade School

At 14 she entered the sixth grade at Columbian school. Two years later she entered Tech High and graduated with high honors. Out of twelve semesters at Tech she made the honor roll ten times, and received all perfect grades twice. Doris was picked out of 150 girls in her senior class to deliver the commencement address. She also participated in debating.

Her life-long ambition has been to obtain an education. The Span-

Government Aid May Be Asked For New Plant

Should Federal Plan
Fail, Must Wait
Eight Years

NO SITE SELECTED

A PLAN to ask the federal government to build new buildings on a new site and lease them to the Municipal University of Omaha is now in the judicial committee of the Board of Regents.

New buildings have already been suggested and several scattered sites are being considered, according to President W. E. Sealock. If, however, aid from Washington is not obtained, it will be eight years before work can be started.

Can't Borrow Money

The plan of leasing federally owned buildings was adopted after Frank H. Woodland, attorney for the board of regents, and several members of the board expressed doubt in the plan to borrow directly from the national government under the public works act.

Congressman Burke introduced the project in Washington early this week. He placed the cost at $700,000, although President Sealock had first estimated a $600,000 figure.

President Sealock considers the present campus "impossible," expansion being out of the question without the expense of purchasing surrounding buildings, which would be useless to the school. He is unfavorable to any plan to further develop the present campus. "That would mean tying the university to an impossible situation," he told the board of regents recently, at the time his plans for new buildings were introduced.

30% Federal Grant

Encouraged by what he terms the "enthusiastic" attitude of Burke, President Sealock said Wednesday that he believes the application of the university for federal aid will be successful. Thirty per cent will be advanced by the government, if the plan is followed through, and the remaining cost will be paid by the board of regents through rent.

Would Like To Teach

Carrying the wealth of the Indies in her heart—in her weak heart—for all of her nineteen years has brought rich rewards to Doris. Through a scholarship she was enabled to enter Municipal University, and her ambition is about to be realized. She isn't certain what she would like to be, but teaching the blind appeals to her.

At Municipal University, she is "wonderfully and unbelievably happy." If you see a little girl with a large smile walking on the campus or in the halls—that's Doris Lynn, the girl who just wouldn't die.

She lives with her mother and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Carter, 4201 Harney Street.

NEW BUILDINGS

THE proposal to lease buildings built by the federal government presents the quickest, cheapest and most satisfactory way in which Municipal University can secure the new buildings which are needed so badly.

Preliminary figures indicate that the paying of $35,000 a year by the University for 35 years would pay off both the interest and principle on the loan. At present the University receives in the neighborhood of $75,000 a year from tuition alone. The increase in enrollment that could be expected would more than offset the $35,000 a year payments.

The offer of the federal government to give outright 30% of the construction cost makes it imperative that Municipal University building plans be pushed at once. An opportunity like this will probably never return. On a $700,000 building program the federal government would give outright $200,000. This represents a huge savings to local taxpayers.

Municipal University must have new buildings. No one denies that. If they are not built now they will be in the next few years. Building costs will be much higher then. Why not alleviate the present overcrowded conditions at the most favorable opportunity for launching a building program?

Not only would money be saved by building now, but employment would be given a large number of local men. This fact alone should be a powerful stimulant to the building program.

We repeat: If Municipal University is to secure the buildings so badly needed, now is the time to do it, and the proposal to lease governmental buildings is the most feasible.

A NEW CAMPUS SITE

MAYOR Towl's proposal that the 80 acre tract west of the circus grounds be acquired for Municipal University's new campus is an excellent proposal and deserves the utmost consideration on the part of the regents.

This tract is close to Omaha's business district, has plenty of room for the future expansion of the University, and is easily accessible from all parts of the city. We know of no other tract of land in the city which so well fulfills the demands that will be made upon a new campus.

As most of this tract has been virtually confiscated for taxation, it could be acquired cheaply. There is no other tract in the city that could be had so reasonable. Money saved in buying land could be used to expand the building program.

The purchase of this tract for a campus site is, we admit, open to question, but where in the city can a location be found that is not open to even more criticism?

Regents Order Salary Slash, Lower Budget

Municipal university regents voted to cut faculty salaries, to fix a tax levy of .6 mill, and to adopt a budget of $185,582.46 at a meeting Thursday, July 28.

The tax levy is .2 mill more than last year but is .4 mill less than the legal maximum of 1 mill. The budget is $5,869.99 less than last year's budget.

No Safety Margin

The salary of employees receiving more than $2,500 a year will be cut ten per cent. It will apply to President W. E. Sealock who is under contract for $10,000 a year but asked to be included.

"Anticipating 80 per cent tax collection and an income of $75,000 from tuition," E. A. Baird, chairman of the finance committee explained, the .6 mill levy will yield almost exactly the amount of the budget. There will be no margin of safety but under present conditions I don't believe we would be justified in providing a margin."

Don't Park Behind Covenant Hospital

Students who have been using the parking lot behind the Evangelical Covenant hospital have been asked to discontinue this practice.

It was found that cars of the students were often in the way when a doctor on an emergency call was entering or leaving the hospital grounds.

Second Annual Reception Given By Dr. Sealock

Green and yellow was the color scheme of the outdoor garden setting at the second annual reception given by President and Mrs. William E. Sealock of the Municipal University, Friday evening, September 22, at the John Jacob Memorial gymnasium. Members of the board of regents and their wives, faculty members and their wives, and students were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Sealock.

A garden pool filled with goldfish in the center of the hall was surrounded by tall ferns and palms. Baskets of black-eyed susans, sumac, and castor plants decorated the room. Colored lights were dropped to the level of the balcony where garden seats were placed for the guests.

Orchestra Plays

Muny Freshmen Begin 'New Deal'

Old Methods Removed With Curriculum Revision

Four new courses of study are being offered the freshman, who must enroll in at least three. They are the social sciences, the humanities, the physical sciences, and the biological sciences. The social sciences, under the direction of Dr. Stimson, include economics, government, and sociology. The humanities, at whose head is Dr. Payne, consist of literature, philosophy, and the arts. The department of the physical sciences, directed by Dr. William MacLay, is composed of physics, chemistry and mathematics. Dr. L. N. Garlough is in charge of biological sciences.

There are lectures in every field, with a personal conference every week. Sophomores will enroll in the second-year courses of the above subjects. Juniors and Seniors will specialize in their desired fields, as in economics, chemistry, etc.

A comprehensive examination at the end of the semester, together with reports from the personal conferences, will determine the student's grade.

More Changes in View

The new plans are by no means complete and final.

According to Dr. Holt, in two or three years attendance in classes will be optional—perhaps. The abolition of the "credit hours" is another aim of the University. If the latter condition is removed, degrees will be awarded upon the successful completion of a comprehensive examination.

Mayor Suggests 80 Acre Tract For Uni Site

An ideal campus for Municipal University, Mayor Roy Towl believes, would be the 80-acre tract of land between Thirtieth and Thirty-sixth from Maple to Bedford streets.

This tract—due west of the circus grounds—has been virtually confiscated by taxation and consequently could be acquired for almost nothing, he said Tuesday, September 26.

"The new campus could be linked with the new housing project that is now under consideration," he said. "The land could be handled in the same way as land acquired for the housing corporation, and later transferred to the regents of Municipal University."

As the tract is almost equidistant from three sections of Omaha from which a majority of university students would come—Florence, Benson, and Dundee—the mayor believes it would be an ideal site.

DISHING OUT SPORT HASH

Paul Lange, Sports Editor

WITH the start of fall comes the football season. A number of students have recently remarked, "What sort of a team will Omaha have this year?"

This season's material has plenty of beef and height. Those factors alone indicate that the Cardinals should go places. To make it look even more rosy there are 15 letter-men back. The old timers are Larry Hall, Gene Hoover, Leo Peary, Kenneth Turner and James Fischer, backs; Leon Fouts, Frank Hummel, Hugh Hanks, Elmer Ossian, Don Minikus, Jimmie James, Howard Sorensen, Lowell Fouts, Carl Johnson and Noel King, linemen; Neil Huff, Bill Berkheimer and Wynn Carter, numeral letterman, are also back.

* * *

THE new crop is very promising.

You ought to get acquainted with Harold Johnk, 200 pounder and six footer from Walnut, Ia. Another boy is no slouch. He's Norman Sorensen, brother to man-mountain Howdy. Norm was a good boy for South High and should develop here. Then there's Bob Elliott, who with experience gained on Nebraska and Creighton freshmen teams, can make it plenty rough on the other fellow.

A backfield flash among the newcomers is Fred "Tippy" Tyler from Shenandoah. He is going sweet so far. And how he can handle those legs of his. If he can just keep his mitts on the ball he'll really put "full speed" ahead. Omaha high schools sent several good men. From Benson comes Frank Crawford, guard. Ernie Adams, Benson coach, is proud of him—and he should be. The boy has grit.

* * *

CENTRAL is represented by Jack Nieman and Irvin Birge, nifty backs, and DeVer Sholes, who is improving rapidly at the guard position. Adrian Kent, quarterback, Joe Scraps and Joe Beran, linemen, hail from North. Watch those boys. Bill Nelson from Tech should develop very nicely in the backfield if given a chance. A quartet of out-of-towners shouldn't be overlooked. They are Myrl McKean of Glenwood, Carl Baade of Harlan, Floyd Hansen of Emporia, Kan., and Glen Taylor, Cumberland, Ia., linemen.

* * *

BARRING injuries and dissension, Omaha should chalk up a good record this fall—or it won't be the fault of the Three-H coaching staff of Sed Hartman, Harold Hutchison and Warren Howard. Hutchison is the newest addition to the coaching roster. He is probably University of Nebraska's greatest football center. In 1925 he was All-American snap-perback.

Boy—is Omaha going to look neat on the gridiron this year? The footballers have new uniforms. They will wear black silk pants, red jerseys with black shoulders and black numbers on front and back, red socks and black head gears and shoes.

Omaha's football team plays its first game Saturday afternoon at Chicago against DePaul. The Chicago outfit trimmed the Cardinals, 34 to 6, last year but it should be a different story this season. How about a little school spirit? For the result of the game call the Omaha World-Herald sports department (At. 0300) around 4:30 or 5 o'clock Saturday.

Cardinals Meet DePaul Uni In Opening Game

All Veteran Omaha Team Will Start

27 MAKE TRIP

THE Cardinals will play their first game of the 1933 season, Saturday, with De Paul University at Chicago. The team, 27 strong, departed this morning at 7 o'clock from the Burlington station.

Their opponent has a strong team again this year, and the Cardinals will find this game anything but easy. Last year Omaha received a 34-to-6 defeat at the hands of this hard-running team. The De Paul aggregation uses the Notre Dame system while Omaha uses a variation of the Warner system. This year the team should give De Paul a much better battle. The first string men are more experienced and the reserves are stronger.

Omaha will possibly start the game with an all veteran lineup which has speed, stamina, strength, and weight. The lineup will probably be: Right end, Ossian; Right tackle, H. Sorensen; Right guard, Hummel; Center, L. Fouts; Left guard, Johnson; Left tackle, Hanks; Left end, Leon Fouts; Fullback, J. Fischer; Right half, Peary; Left half, Hall; Quarterback, Hoover. The reserves making the trip are: backfield men; Nieman, Tyler, Turner, Huff, and Kent. Linemen include: Ends; Elliot, James, Minikus. Tackles, N. Sorensen, Carter, Berkheimer; Guards, King; Centers, Johnk, Scarpa.

The team will arrive in Chicago Friday night and will stay at the Sovereign Hotel. The game will be played at Loyola Field at 2 o'clock. The team may stay in Chicago through Sunday to see the Century of Progress.

Sisters Of The Gridiron By The Bluffs Quartet

Jack Nieman plays halfback and runs like a deer (the deer).

You KENT do that, Adrian.

Norman Sorensen is from South High. He's Howard's "tiny" brother.

From Shenandoah comes a fellow named Fred "Tippy" Tyler who says its like high school here except the fellers are bigger, the rules are different and—and—and.

Harold Johnk is the youngest member of the Omaha squad yet is called "Old Johnk."

SUCCEEDS MISS DIAMOND AS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Miss Virginia Woolfolk, a graduate of the Nebraska University, has been named women's athletic director during Miss Ruth Diamond's absence.

She received a B. Sc. degree in physical education in June, 1932. Last year she was assistant director of the Health Education department of the Lincoln Y. W. C. A.

She has served as sport director at Oakwood lodge in Crete, Nebraska during the summer. Her home is in Lincoln. Miss Diamond is at Columbia university where she is working for a Master's degree. She will be back in February.

Registration this fall has upset a good many people's ideas about the popularity of various courses.

French Club Will Meet Next Tuesday

The French Club will hold the first meeting of the year Tuesday, October 3, in Room 10B at three o'clock.

With the exception of Josephine Peterson, vice-president, officers elected last spring will preside. Miss Peterson is now attending Drake University.

The other officers of the club are Ruth Wallace, president; Lois Harkins, secretary; and Bernice Perl-meter, treasurer.

All students interested in French are eligible for membership.

There are actually several freshmen in the freshmen picture this year.
